

Terminations Webinar with Ceridian and the Canadian Payroll Association

Overview:

Terminations are part of the unfortunate reality of doing business. Because of the unpredictable nature of their frequency, organizations must always be on top of the requirements associated with a termination, whether it be employee or employer initiated. This session takes a brief look at the legislative requirements in Canada associated with terminations such as employer obligations, the qualification criteria around a retiring allowance, and the difference between salary continuance and retiring allowance and the importance of the Record of Employment (ROE).
